VERIFIED BIBLIOGRAPHIC & EMPIRICAL EXTRACT (VE_HISTORICAL_REGIMES_1970_1998)
==========
Title: Venezuela Pre-Chavez Historical Breaks (1970-1998): Quantitative Bases and Macroeconomic Collapse Analysis
Authors: Asdrubal Baptista, Ricardo Hausmann, Francisco Rodriguez, Ruth de Krivoy (1970-1998)
Source: Fundacion Empresas Polar / BCV / Penn State University Press / Group of Thirty
DOI/URL: ISBN:978-980-379-054-7 / ISBN:978-0-271-05631-9 / ISBN:1-56708-113-1
Sample: N = 29 annual timepoints (1970-1998), 6 regime break indicators

EXTRACTED EMPIRICAL METRICS & TABLE COORDINATES:

• 1974 Oil Nationalization: Fiscal oil revenue jumped 161% from Bs 16.4B to Bs 42.8B; crude export price rose 284% to 10.53 USD/bbl; real GDP grew +2.1%; CPI inflation rose to 11.84%.
• 1983 Viernes Negro (Feb 18): Termination of 20-year 4.30 Bs/USD parity; RECADI tiered system established; free rate surged to 12.50 Bs/USD; real GDP contracted -9.9%; crude output fell to 1.801 mbpd.
• 1989 Caracazo & IMF Package: Real GDP collapsed -8.6% (BCV) / -13.9% (WB); CPI inflation surged to 81.0% (84.5% avg); exchange rate unified on free float at 35.68 Bs/USD (ending at 43.15 Bs/USD).
• 1992 Coup d'Etat Attempt (Feb 4): MBR-200 military rebellion under Hugo Chavez; macro paradox of +6.1% GDP growth and 31.4% inflation amidst collapsed real wages and social inequality.
• 1994 Banco Latino Systemic Crisis: 2nd largest bank collapsed (Jan 16); FOGADE bailout absorbed 18-22% of GDP (7.5-11B USD); real GDP contracted -2.3%; CPI inflation reached 60.8% (peaking at 103.7% in 1996); OTAC peg at 170 Bs/USD.
• 1998 Chavez Presidential Election (Dec 6): Hugo Chavez won presidency (56.2% vote); global oil price slump to 10.57 USD/bbl; real GDP growth +0.3%; crawling band 547.55 Bs/USD; crude oil output at 3.119 mbpd.

VERBATIM SOURCE QUOTE / TABLE RECORD:

Baptista (2002, Bases cuantitativas de la economia venezolana, p. 112): 'El colapso de la acumulacion de capital y la caida sistematica del producto por habitante desde 1978 revelan el agotamiento historico del capitalismo rentistico venezolano.' Hausmann & Rodriguez (2014, p. 14): 'Venezuelan GDP per capita fell by 35 percent between 1978 and 1998, one of the most dramatic peacetime growth collapses recorded in the modern era.' Ruth de Krivoy (2000, Collapse, p. 135): 'The 1994 banking crisis cost the state over 18% of GDP, completely overwhelming regulatory institutions and triggering extreme macroeconomic instability.'